Profile

"During my summer at Clark Wilson, I was given every opportunity to learn, contribute and succeed. One of the most memorable experiences during my summer was working on a complex corporate file in the Aboriginal Business group. Within days of being at the firm, I was sitting in on client meetings and was significantly involved in files for both corporate and First Nations clients with the goal of building partnerships and structuring economic development opportunities. In addition to receiving excellent mentorship from senior lawyers, I sincerely value that everyone at the firm makes every effort to develop meaningful relationships with students."
