

Sam Shury

Articled Student

604.891.7798

SShury@cwilson.com

Profile

"I arrived at Clark Wilson with a keen interest in Aboriginal Business, while also wanting to immerse myself in a broad range of practice areas. After making this known during the hiring process, I was approached by a member of the Aboriginal Business group in my first week at the firm and asked to assist on structuring a green energy project for a First Nation. Since then, I have built strong working relationships with members of the Aboriginal Business group while juggling a diverse array of tasks from practice areas across the firm. Clark Wilson has enabled me to focus on my areas of interest while still providing a broad learning experience."