Profile

"My summer at Clark Wilson has been a rewarding experience. From the beginning of my articles, I was given the opportunity to contribute in meaningful ways, from writing research memos and blogs, to preparing the first draft of a lease. I truly felt that the work I did for lawyers was appreciated - this is most exemplified through my receiving authorship credit for the articles I helped write for the firm. The mentorship and guidance that I received while working at Clark Wilson has been invaluable in shaping my early legal career, as having both a principal and associate mentor allowed me to better plan for my long and short-term career goals."
