Profile

Returning to Clark Wilson as an articulated student has been an energizing and immersive experience. I felt welcomed and remembered by the lawyers and staff I worked with last year while I was a co-op student. More than that, the firm created opportunities for me to make new connections and explore the practice areas I'm most interested in. Clark Wilson continues to provide me with a true learning environment where I was given the tools to contribute and the feedback to improve. Since returning as an articulated student, the assignments I've taken on have been more challenging, more fulfilling, and more closely aligned with my areas of interest.
