My summer at Clark Wilson was everything I expected it to be and more. When assigning tasks to students, the lawyers provided extremely helpful and thorough explanations and were always happy to answer questions that came up. The amount of support and desire to get students involved was very apparent throughout my summer. The lawyers and staff took the time to get to know the students and built relationships with us through consistent work as well as through events like the firm's retreat, weekly socials and coffee chats.

The summer students not only had a great relationship amongst ourselves, but with the articling students that were in the firm for the summer as well. All of students were there for each other and saw each other as teammates. I am looking forward to continuing to build these relationships and immersing myself further in the exciting work Clark Wilson does throughout my articles.
