My summer at Clark Wilson has been nothing short of amazing. I have had the opportunity to observe hearings, review contracts, draft agreements, write articles, and join client meetings. I have also been able to foster my legal research and writing skills while gaining exposure to a variety of practice areas. Every step of the way, I have felt supported by the lawyers, paralegals, and legal assistants. I could not have asked for a better student cohort to share the experience with and I look forward to returning to Clark Wilson for my articles next year!
