

Robin Dean

Partner

Indigenous Law
Business Litigation

604 643 3918
rdean@cwilson.com

Profile

Robin was motivated to pursue a career in law to help address social injustice. Today, she assists her clients in seeking social justice through the courts. Robin represents First Nations clients, their businesses, and partners as a member of Clark Wilsons' Indigenous Law group.

Robin has particular expertise in Indigenous rights, title and governance issues, judicial reviews of government action and dispute resolution. She has experience at all levels of court and is well-equipped to advance her clients' interests through litigation when necessary.

Those that Robin represents appreciate her client-focused and dedicated approach. She values meaningful relationships and takes the time to get to know her clients in order to understand their unique situations and desired outcomes.

Robin is honored to work with First Nations in advancing their goals, including recognizing and protecting Indigenous and Aboriginal rights, securing economic benefits, and achieving greater self-governance.

Services

- > Indigenous rights, titles & governance
- > Dispute resolution
- > Judicial reviews of government action

Credentials

Industry Involvement

- > Board Member, Urban Ink

Education & Call to Bar

- > Call to bar: British Columbia, 2014
- > Call to bar: Washington State, 2011
- > Juris Doctor, University of Washington School of Law, 2010

Languages

- > English
- > German