Profile

As companies progress, the corporate world becomes more integrative. Having worked with businesses from different industries on a variety of matters, Ravi's experience helps our clients grow, compete and succeed in this ever-changing market.

Ravi's broad practice has given him an all-around experience to draw from when finding solutions for clients on matters that engage diverse areas of law and business.

Services

- > Acquisition, sale and/or financing of various commercial real estate properties and a variety of businesses
- > Commercial leases and lease renewals
- > Corporate and commercial agreements, including shareholders agreements, restrictive covenants and non-competition/solicitation agreements
- > Corporate and commercial aspects of tax-related transactions
- > Researching and preparing opinions on various topics in corporate, commercial and real estate law
- > Corporate structuring, reorganizations, restructuring and amalgamations

Ravi achieved a Masters of Arts in Economics from the University of Toronto. This in-depth financial training provides him with grounded knowledge about the way businesses interact and function within local, national and international economies.

Having worked for his family business from a young age, Ravi learned the values of entrepreneurship: hard work, discipline and sacrifice. He understands that our clients hold these same values and incorporates them in his practice. Seeing the dedication that his father gave for his family and business instilled in Ravi the same work ethic in serving our clients.

With a responsive, reliable and detail-oriented approach, Ravi works to understand and achieve our clients' goals through viable and lucrative solutions that allow companies to grow. Ravi enables our clients to improve, expand and protect business.
